I quite like this type of game. Making with low-poly characters. Firstly, the Story simply express the normal relationship between a couple. See through the life of characters, there are some plots reflects on me. And I was moved! What's More, I like the soundtrack along the game. Full of details!.. Something like the Man move pipe in Water Scene, the Man walk on sand-storm weather with wind sound. More stuff should that other players experiences their own.. I enjoy the art and BGM, but the game mechanic still need improve. The overall gameplay is short, and you must notice the details, solve the puzzles to get another ending. I think the purpose of this game is not just walkthrough, it seems have other meanings.. I enjoy the art and BGM, but the game mechanic still need improve.
